

Prof. Dr. Govind Subedi

Contact address: Kirtipur Municipality, Ward no. 2, Kathmandu, Nepal

Phone: 977-1-4331323 (Off.); 977-1-4330135 (Res.); 977-9851157758 (Cell)

Email: subedigs2010@gmail.com, govind.subedi@cdpl.tu.edu.np

Prof. Dr. Govind Subedi is currently the Head of Central Department of Population Studies, Tribhuvan University (TU), Kathmandu, Nepal.

He earned his Master Degree in Population Studies from TU and another Master Degree in Development Studies from the International Institute of Social Sciences (ISS), the Hague, the Netherlands. He has completed MPhil and PhD from Center for the Study of Social System (CSSS), Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), New Delhi, India.

He has been teaching for the last 30 years in TU, and his areas of teaching and research are political demography, population and development, population and social justice, gender and development, child rights, trafficking in person and commercial sexual exploitation of children. In addition to teaching in PhD and MPhil program, he has been continuously supervising PhD and MPhil thesis.

He has published a number of research-based articles including books from Nepal as well as from abroad. He also worked with different national and international organizations including with the Ministry of Health and Population and Ministry of Women, Children and Senior Citizens, the Government of Nepal and National Human Rights Commission as his capacity of researcher/evaluator/consultant. He is at present a Senate Member of Tribhuvan University.

He is also a board member of Children Workers in Nepal (CWIN) – a child rights organization in Nepal and a life-member of Indian Sociology Society. Prof. Subedi served as the Principal of University Campus, Tribhuvan University (2013-2017).